Mexico's Indigenous Languages and Cultures

January 2022, Mexico City & Oaxaca

Fully-Funded Overseas Faculty Development Seminar for Community College and MSI Faculty

This two-week seminar will provide concrete exposure to the geographic and cultural diversity of Mexico and its historical ties to the U.S. In Oaxaca, participants will gain first-hand experience of Mexico’s Indigenous communities and the connections they have fostered with local scholars, artists, and activists. The seminar will also explore the rich collections held in Mexico’s museums and heritage sites, provide opportunities for discussion with local professors and students, and visit nearby pueblo communities. Participants will experience the wide diversity of Mexico’s Indigenous history, society, and culture and its relevance for the future of the United States.

Learn more and apply: caorc.org/faculty-development-mexico

Application Deadline: Monday, August 30, 2021

*Exact seminar dates to be determined and subject to change based on pandemic developments